Court Orders Her
To Trim Weight
For Compensation

PROVIDENCE, R. I. — A 225-pound woman has been ordered to lose 200 pounds in the next six weeks or face loss of her workmen's compensation disability payments.

And if Mrs. Florencia Claremont Skinner, 29, does not get down to 100 pounds within 10 weeks she may still be taken off the compensation rolls.

Mrs. Skinner told Judge Fred R. Perkins yesterday she suffered a fall at work about five years ago and her weight went from 155 to 225 pounds. She has been drawing disability payments ever since.

Judge Perkins ordered her $15 a week payments reduced to $10.63, told her to go back to work and added:

"It is the duty of the employee to continue to reduce or to regard the continuance of such obesity as a luxury taking her out of the realm of employment for reasons unconnected with her original injury."

The judge handed down the reduction order after Dr. Louis A. Sage, court-appointed to examine Mrs. Skinner, reported:

"I think she should make every effort to lose some weight. She certainly is getting out of hand."

Mrs. Skinner did not comment.

Yesterday's Games— Dodgers Hope To Break Even On Road Trip

By BEN PHILGAR
AP Sports Writer

If the Brooklyn Dodgers may close to 500 ball on their 13-game Western road trip opening today in Chicago, the home office will be sorely tempted to start having World Series tickets printed.

The Dodgers begin their third Western swing with a seven-game haul over the Milwaukee Braves and the deep rooted conviction that the only serious challenger to their pennant is the pennant is fourth-place New York.

The Giants went West with high hopes, too, but they got off to a dreadful start last night in Milwaukee where the given-up-and-died Braves buried them under a 13-0 count.

For the Dodgers, the West this year has proved just as wild and woolly as the storybooks claim. Brooklyn won only three out of eight games on its first journey West. On their second trip, the Dodgers won six and lost eight.

The Giants can still recover from last night's beating. Unlike the Dodgers they've played good ball in the West this season, winning 14 out of 21.

In the Braves dropped three of their four games in Brooklyn over the weekend, most observers figured they were finished. But against New York last night Charlie Grimm's lads tried to persuade the home folks it was all a mistake.

They clubbed four New York pitchers for 14 hits and made it easy for lefty Warren Spahn to register his 13th victory of the season and his 30th major league shutout.

Eddie Mathews hammered two home runs, the first one with the bases loaded during an 8-run uprising in the fourth inning. The blast was Mathews' second grand slam clout of the season and his night's work left him with 32 home runs in 95 games, one short of Babe Ruth's pace in 1925, the year the Babe hit the all-time record of 60.

The game was the only one in either league.

The Giants stuck around Milwaukee for three more games on this visit. Brooklyn plays three in Chicago, Pittsburgh is in St. Louis for three and Philadelphia opens the tour with three in Cincinnati.

In the American league, where only eight games separate fourth place Cleveland and first-place New York, the Yankees begin their home stand with three games against the Indians who have beaten them six in a row. Boston, fresh from a brilliant 10-2 road trip, plays second-place Chicago in Boston. St. Louis will be at Philadelphia and Detroit at Washington.

5th AF Claims 984 Communist Planes Downed

SEOUL, AP—The 5th Air Force announced today its planes destroyed 984 Communist planes during the three-year Korean War. In a statistical summary of its operations, the 5th Air Force also claimed 159 Red planes probably destroyed and 965 damaged.

The summary did not include operations of planes, mainly B29 bombers, of the Far East Air Force.

Of the total claims, the 5th Air Force said 823 of the planes destroyed were MIG-15 jet fighters, of which all but 23 were downed by American F86 Sabre jets. Fifth Air Force also listed a total of 142 MIGs probably destroyed and 929 damaged.

The 5th Air Force gave its losses as 971 planes of which only 94 were lost in aerial combat. Of the remainder, 877 were lost to ground fire and 296 to other causes, presumably operational causes.

The air force said 38 Sabre jets were lost in aerial combat of the total of 94 downed in this way.

Fifth Air Force planes flew a total of 634,588 sorties (individual flights) during the war.

Congress Eyes Immigration Emergency Bill

WASHINGTON, AP—Both branches of Congress today geared for action on President Eisenhower's emergency immigration bill, perhaps the last serious effort to adjustment of Congress, which is scheduled for this week.

In the House, Rep. Walter (R-Pa.) prepared to wage an all-out effort against the proposal to admit with in the next three years 240,000 refugees and others, in addition to regular immigration quotas.

Republican leaders, however, predicted they could muster enough votes to pass the bill, on the White House list of "must" legislation for this waning session.

The Senate version would authorize admission of 209,000 persons over three years. Eisenhower originally asked for authority to admit 240,000 in two years. He said the measure would be a valuable cold war weapon by providing asylum for Iron Curtain refugees.

Two of the chief opponents have been Walter and Sen. McCarran (D-Nev.), co-authors of the comprehensive immigration bill passed last year over ex-President Truman's veto. McCarran and administration leaders, however, have worked out a compromise and the Nevada says that while he will still vote against the bill, he will not seek to delay it any considerable time.

Just one other item on the "must" list appears to be in trouble and in a serious difficulty is that House Speaker Joseph Martin (R-Mass.) said yesterday passage is doubtful. That is the administration's request for postal rate hikes of about 240 million dollars a year.

That measure has been blocked in the House Post Office Committee, which arranged another closed session today to consider it. The Senate has taken no action. If the GOP leadership should press it, the proposal might force Congress to delay adjournment.

Seven of the dozen regular monetary bills required to finance the government if the current fiscal year are still in the congressional machinery, but their clearance by the weekend seems assured, barring unforeseen disagreements.

The Interior Department appropriation, carrying $433,561,550, was sent to the White House by the Senate last night.

Labor and Health Department Fund Bill Is Passed In House

WASHINGTON, AP—A compromise bill appropriating $2,009,963,261 to finance the Labor Department and the new Department of Health, Education and Welfare was passed today by the House and sent to the Senate.

Representing an adjustment of different bills passed previously by the two chambers, the compromise allots $258,255,000 to the Labor Department, $1,738,339,261 to the Health-Education-Welfare Department and $13,339,000 to miscellaneous agencies including the National Labor Relations board.

The House originally voted $1,980,706,461 and the Senate $2,028,940,761 for these activities.

The compromise includes 65 million dollars for grants to states and municipalities for hospital construction. This is 15 million more than the House originally approved and 10 million less than the Senate voted.

House Committee Shelves 'Must' Postal Rate Hike

WASHINGTON, AP—The House Post Office Committee today shelved indefinitely the administration's "must" bill for increased postal rates.

The committee decision to give no further consideration to the bill at this session was taken in the light of strong opposition to the measure and the drive for adjournment this weekend.

Chairman Rees (R-Kan.) said the announced intention of the Senate not to begin hearings on the postal rate bill combined with the early and late sessions of the House, for the remainder of the week, makes it impracticable to continue work on the bill at this time.

Rees has been under strong administration pressure to get a bill out before adjournment.

Taft's Condition 'Deteriorated'

NEW YORK, AP—Sen. Robert A. Taft's physical condition "has deteriorated" today, New York Hospital announced.

The Ohio Republican recently underwent an exploratory operation of the abdominal wall to investigate a hip ailment.

The announcement was the first that did not take an optimistic view of his condition.

It had been announced last week that he would return to Washington on Wednesday. A statement from the hospital yesterday said only that his departure would be delayed.

"Sen. Taft's condition has deteriorated somewhat during the last 24 hours," the hospital bulletin said today.

"He is responding less well to treatment and is not taking food satisfactorily."

Lawyer Loses $5,000 Just a Few Minutes After Bank Visit

KANSAS CITY, AP—Arthur N. Adams, 81, a lawyer, lost $5,000 yesterday just a few minutes after he took the $500 bills out of his bank.

Adams told the police he put the currency in his watch pocket, climbed in a taxicab outside the bank. A few blocks away he felt his pocket and the money was gone.

He went back to the bank in the cab, but a thorough search brought no results. Adams offered a $500 reward for return of his money.

Navy Loses 5 Ships During Korean War. 82 Others Are Hit

YOKOSUKA, AP—U. S. Navy headquarters said today five U.S. Navy ships were sunk and 82 others hit during the Korean War.

Navy casualties totaled 337 Americans killed and 1,885 wounded.

The headquarters summary called the Korean naval fighting a "strange war" because of the casualties suffered by naval craft and personnel "without participating in a single naval engagement."

It added that "never once did a battle occur far from the sight of land."

An action, the headquarters said "took place with surface ships moving within close hew of the coastline and engaging it out with heavy Communist shore batteries."

The naval craft sunk were four minesweepers—the Pledge, Partridge, Pirate and Magpie—and one Navy tug, the Sarsi.

Asks Dalton To Examine Jury Report

JEFFERSON CITY, AP—Gov. Paul M. Donnelly gave Atty. Gen. John M. Dalton a new job of investigating yesterday—looking into a federal grand jury's report that St. Louis has been the scene of labor-management irregularities in the construction field.

One of the major charges was that certain labor union officers had been demand payoffs from the contractors in order to assure labor peace on big construction jobs.

Donnelly turned over to Dalton the full grand jury report, ordering him to pay particular attention to those portions of the report he quoted but to look also through the entire report to see if there were any other instances of Missouri law violations.

Donnelly conceded the investigation this might spread to other parts of the state. The grand jury report, released last week, made several references to the situation in the construction field in the Kansas City area—a situation already gone into extensively by a congressional committee.

The dispute between labor leaders and the contractors had resulted in some ten weeks of work stoppages, including big jobs for the defense program. It was ended last week when the unions and the contractors signed new agreements.

The grand jury report also made a reference to the operations of an influence peddler in the allegedly took a hand in the awarding of contracts for a state building.

The biggest and most recent state job was the new Jefferson Building here, a $5,250,000 state office building designed to take many state agencies out of private buildings throughout the Capital City.

Farm Income Drops 5 Per Cent From Last Year

WASHINGTON, AP—The Agriculture Department reported today that farm income during the first half of this year was down 5 per cent from a year ago. It totaled $12,600,000,000.

Farmers sold more crops and livestock and livestock products than during the first half of last year, but prices averaged 10 per cent lower.

Receipts from livestock and livestock products totaled $8,200,000,000, or a reduction of 8 per cent from a year ago. Most of this decline was due to lower prices for cattle and calves. Crop receipts in the first six months totaled $4,400,000,000, about the same as in 1952.

The department said the decline in farm income from a year ago has been getting larger month by month. In June, for example, receipts were down 13 per cent from the corresponding month last year.

Meanwhile, the department predicted

Dragon Lady Gives a Show For Marines

WESTERN FRONT, Korea. P—American Marines today got their first look at the Red Dragon Lady, the Communist siren with a loudspeaker.

She should have stayed at home. The Dragon Lady and a troupe of Chinese entertainers came out on a front-line outpost hill and staged a show for the Marines a few hundred yards away.

The Dragon Lady has been making front-line broadcasts for months. There may be more than one Dragon Lady doing the same thing along the front but the Marines have been hearing her regularly, singing Korean and Chinese songs and making propaganda broadcasts.

She had never been seen by Allied troops, so when she appeared this morning in the open, broadcasting with a microphone from the small hill, Marines dived for telescopes and field glasses.

They saw a slight, moon-faced girl dressed in a very faded khaki uniform. She wore a sash pulled down over her long straight black hair.

Her shoes were the regulation canvas and rubber shoes worn by ordinary soldiers. If she had any glamor the Marines couldn't see it.

The Chinese put on an Oriental road show for the Marines.

They said that now that an armistice was signed and the fighting stopped they hoped the Americans would go home soon.

Personally, one Marine said, he thought it was a good idea. The Chinese entertainers spread banners saying, "Long live peace."

They put up another sign simply spelling "Peace."

"The band came out. They had what passed for a french horn and a trumpet," said Sgt. Ted Moyes, Manning, S. C.

They also had two small Chinese cymbals and an apparatus that looked like a tom-tom and was played the same way.

A couple of Chinese started waving long red and yellow banners and the band struck up something or other.

"The racket could be heard a mile," said Pfc. Carl Loker of York, Pa.

The Marines have another name for her but use the term Dragon Lady in polite society.

"That bag is ugly," said Pfc. Tommy Williams as he peered through a telescope. A line of men waited their turns at the telescope.

The Dragon Lady appeared to be about 21 years old. She was hardly five feet tall and her figure remained a mystery beneath her shapeless uniform.

She sang several Korean and Chinese songs in a soft, pleasant voice.

The Marines appreciatively knocked off work and listened.

It wasn't much of a show but they admitted it was highly unusual and the only show they had at the time.

Finally, the Dragon Lady sang the plaintive "Ariang," Korea's most popular song and then broadcast in her lisping Oriental voice, "Goodbye, Americans, Goodbye, Goodbye."

ANTS

There's a new and better way to kill ants. It's called Roach Filmz. When applied to any surface with the built-in cap-applier, it leaves a hard, dry, clean invisible film. The film can't harm or soil any surface, but, when ants touch it, their legs become paralyzed and they die in two hours. A single application remains effective for months. You never see it, but it sure does get rid of ants and roaches! Roach Filmz is available at W. E. Baer Drug Company.

Only 21 Attend City Prayer Meeting For Armistice Thanks

COLUMBUS, Ohio. P—Only 21 persons attended a widely publicized interdenominational prayer meeting in downtown Columbus for the armistice in the Korean War.

The meeting at Trinity Episcopal Church, was sponsored last night by the Columbus Council of Churches.

Rev. Floyd Faust, president of the council, said he expected 500 persons to attend. The meeting was given publicity by Columbus newspapers, radio stations and television outlets.

The Rev. Mr. Faust said the small turnout indicated people either were skeptical of the permanence of the truce or were indifferent to the war.

Baltimore Firm Asks Higher Transit Fares

BALTIMORE. P—The Baltimore Transit Co. went before the Maryland Public Service Commission yesterday to request higher rates.

The company estimated higher rates would boost annual revenue by $2,925,000.

The only hitch—$2,000,225 of that amount would have to go for taxes. Only $921,775 would be kept by the company, the firm's exhibits said.

Man, Monkey Enjoy Reunion, Celebrate With Bottle of Beer

BLUEFIELD, W. Va. P—Eugene Tibbs and the beer-swilling monkey he calls "one of the family" were reunited here yesterday after a painful separation of more than six weeks.

To celebrate, they had a convivial bottle of beer together.

The monkey, Happy by name, got lost last month while swimming with Tibbs in Laurel Creek, just across the state border in Virginia. Some dogs chased him away.

Tibbs, "almost frantic," posted a reward. Subsequently, lots of people said, "Happy," but nobody could hold her. Yesterday, though, two boys trapped the monkey in a smokehouse and returned her to the overjoyed Tibbs, who got her 16 years ago from animal man Frank Buck.

Swordfish Follows Harpooned Mate To Death on Beach

PALMI, Italy. P—Three Italian fishermen told today of a male swordfish who followed his harpooned mate to a beach near this Calabrian fishing village—and to death.

Domenico Gagliostro and two brothers, Rocco and Carmine Oliveri, reported that after they harpooned the 200-pound female fish, the male began following their boat toward shore.

They landed the craft and put the female on the beach. The male sped on toward shore, gave one mighty leap and flopped beside his mate to die.

Dodson Wins Sedalia Open Golf With 68

Glenn Oatman Tops Amateurs With 69 Total

Genial Ray Dodson of Springfield shot a sizzling four-under-par 68 on his second nine holes Monday morning to go with his opening 58 for a 62 total, good enough to win the fifth annual Sedalia Open Golf Tournament and send the Ozark professional home $300 richer.

Following Dodson in the pro bracket were Walter Cash, Springfield and Gib Sellers, Hot Springs, Ark., who tied, at 69, for second and third, giving each $175. Leonard Dodson (Ray's brother) and Chuck Rotar, both of Kansas City, with 70s tied for fourth and fifth for $87.50 each. Bill Black of Kansas City, alone in sixth place with a 71, was good for $50 and Bo Winninger of Oklahoma City and Arlin Stone of Springfield had even par 72, which netted them $12.50 each.

Winninger needed the money. He won only $1.100 the day before in the Kansas City Open.

In the amateur division, Glenn Oatman of Kansas City took the top merchandise prize with a 69, while Bill Stewart of Springfield, the State Amateur winner, Chuck Hyatt of Kansas City, the all-time basketball great and Gene Belleville and Leland Kramer, all of Kansas City, tied for second with 72s.

Leland Gibson of Kansas City, who won $750 in the K. C. Open, narrowly missed with a 73, as did pros Buster Mills and Laddie Kempa, both of Kansas City, and amateur Ed Loeffler of Jefferson City.

Tawse Wins Special Prize

A special merchandise award, given by Jack Cunningham to the low Sedalia amateur, went to Alan Tawse, who turned in a 77.

Professional Bill Nary of Kansas City, rated as one of the top prospects on the circuit, picked up after shooting a 37 on the front side. Last year's Sedalia Open champion, Dr. Paul Leslie of Jefferson City, followed suit after a 41.

Freddie Haas of New Orleans, one of the leading money winners this year, cancelled his entrance late in the morning. The golf firm for which Haas works called him to Chicago to test a new golf club design before the opening of Geo. May's World Championship Tournament.

Ray Dodson, who runs a driving range in Springfield, put the finishing touches on his fine round with an eagle 3 on the 500-yard 18th hole. He boomed out a 300-yard tee shot, hit a six-iron over the dogleg's trees and stroked in a 15-foot sidehill putt.

Earlier in that nine, he had shaved strokes from par with birdies on No. 14 and No. 17. He had pars on the rest of the holes on the back side.

Dodson, who finished just before noon, had a weird first nine holes. He made his 36 in the following manner — par on 1, birdie on 2, par on 3, double bogey on 4, birdie on 5, bogey on 6, birdie on 7, bogey on 8 and birdie on 9.

This round marks only the seventh played by Dodson this season. He said he had no intention of winning but came only for the outing and because he likes the Sedalia tourney and course.

Round Surprises Winner
He summed things up by remarking, "I played better than I know how. I went to sleep only once . . . on No. 4 when I hit the ball into the ditch and wound up with a double bogey."

Sedalia's greens drew hearty praise from Dodson and all the other out-of-towners. They particularly liked the manner in which they held approach shots. And while the Country Club fairways are burned, they are in no worse shape than any others in the drought-stricken area, the pros said.

Cash, one of the latest to finish, lost his chance to tie Dodson, by missing a three-foot putt on the 17th hole. He also closed out with an eagle, playing the hole in almost identical fashion to Dodson.

Sports Roundup—

ChiSox, Yanks' Chief Foe, Has Woeful Day for Heroes

By JACK HAND
(For Gayle Talbot)
COOPERSTOWN, N. Y. — The good people of Cooperstown went home from Doubleday Field mumbling to themselves: "So this is the team that's going to beat out the Yankees?"

They had a point too, for the Chicago White Sox staged a weird exhibition of sleep walking in the afternoon yesterday on their visit to baseball's birthplace.

It was only an exhibition game, of course, and chances are the Sox will all make like Hornsby and Cobb tonight when they play the Red Sox at Fenway Park. But the Sox, who were 18 in a row and the White Sox were 13 games behind he refused to concede. He's that kind of a guy. Play to the final out every day.

"Three clats have a chance to beat the Yankees if they don't straighten out pretty soon," he said. "If Lopat, Reynolds, and Raschi can't live up to their old standards, they're in trouble. Secondary pitching isn't good enough."

"Our pitching has been in and out too. Right now I'm starting Billy Pierce, Sandy Consuegra, Virgil Trucks and Mike Fornieles. I'm going to have to start Harry Dorish in Boston."

"Trucks is our big guy, won eight straight since we got him. He throws as hard as ever. I used to watch him when I was with Detroit. When he's right he's as good as he ever was. If I had a couple more like him and Pierce—"

"Better warm up Keegan," he shouted to one of his coaches. "It don't look like he (Gene Bearden) is going to get anybody out." Bearden finally did get the side out and Paul relaxed a little.

"Things never go the way you think in the spring," he said. "I figured on four pitchers—Lop, Krellow, Tommy Byrne, Joe Dobson and Saul Rogovin—and they all let me down something terrible."

"Then there was Vern Stephens. We gave up a pretty good pitcher (Hector Brown) to get him. I thought he would fill the bill but he didn't come close. It was a good thing we came up with Boo Elinor."

"Otherwise, things have held together pretty good. Give us a try."

Whiz Kids Beat Knob Noster, Meet Holden In Tourney

Knobs Go Out Of Semi-Pro With 2nd Loss

Tonight's Schedule
8 p. m.—Sedalia Whiz Kids vs. Holden.
Wednesday
8 p. m.—Winner of Tuesday's game vs. Springfield.

Sedalia's fighting Whiz Kids and the Holden Chiefs meet tonight at 8 to determine the team which will stand alone in the path of the Springfield Generals, rolling their unbeaten way toward the 1953 Missouri Semi-Pro Baseball Tourney crown.

The local youngsters won their berth by trimming the Knob Noster Merchants, 5-3, in a hotly-contested ten-inning battle in the first game on Monday night's card and the Holden club trounced the 192nd Combat Engineers, 7-0, in the second contest.

The defeats put both Knob Noster and the Engineers out of the double elimination tourney.

As things stand now, the Generals are undefeated and the Whiz Kids and Holden have one loss. The field will be cut to two tonight as Holden and Sedalia tangle.

A ten-run rally in the top of the second spelled success for the Whiz Kids, who were held to a dead heat, 3-3, by the Merchants for nine frames.

The crucial inning, which was played in the rain, ran as follows: Sedalia Pitcher Bobby Brown opened with a double to right-center. He quickly went to third on a wild pitch. Sonny Thomas drew a walk and with the Merchant infield pulled in, Thomas Bobby Case slashed a ground ball to short and Brown was out at the plate trying to score. Thomas taking third and Case reaching first on the fielder's choice.

Case stole second and Carl Miller walked to load the bases.

Then Whiz Kid manager George Thompson rammed a ground ball to the left of Knob's third baseman, Jack Slocum. He made a fine stop but slipped on the jump in field as he threw to the plate for the force play. The throw was wide of Catcher Tom Coon's glove and two runs scored.

The inning ended as Jim Fall tried to left and Miller was out down trying to score after the catch.

Sedalia Scores Early
Sedalia jumped on top in the second inning on a walk to Don Higgins, two wild pitches, a walk to Burk Bennett and a fielder's choice and a wild pitch and got the third run on a walk to Thomas. Case's sacrifice and Miller's single to right.

Knob Noster pushed over two in the fourth on Slocum's single (a pop fly which dropped on the infield), Weist's single which got through the outfielder scoring Slocum, but ended up with Weist out at third trying to stretch his luck. Joe Imbuser's double to the left wall and Bus Walker's single to right.

The Knobs team sent the game into extra innings by scoring one in the sixth on a walk to Jay Esler, a wild pitch and Coon's double to left.

Brown went all the way for the Whiz Kids, giving up nine hits, fanning ten and walking six (one intentional). Bill Hawley worked the first five frames for Knob Noster with Harold Gumm finishing up and drawing the loss.

Hawley allowed only four hits, but wildness forced him out with none down in the sixth. He gave out nine free passes and made three wild pitches while striking out three. Gumm was touched for three hits in his five frames. He walked two and put three down on strikes.

Sedalia's sensational defense was the main factor in the final outcome. Miller threw out three batters trying to steal second in the first three innings. Brown made a great catch on a punt to start a twin killing and Fall robbed Slocum of at least a double with a one-hand, over-the-shoulder stab in the fifth with a man on base.

In the second game it simply

Meadow Gold Runs Up High Score

Meadow Gold softball team defeated the Houstonians Farmers 15 to 9 in a game played Monday night at Houstonia, errors playing a large part in the high score. There were two circuit base clouts, one by B. Hughes of the Meadow Golds and the other W. Charles, who collected with a four-bagger for Houstonia.

Batteries were Wensch and Miller for Meadow Gold; Kreisel and Shireman for Houstonia.

Meadow Gold plays La Monte at Housel Park at 8:15 p. m. Thursday.

was a case of too much Jack Pickett for the Engineers to handle.

The chunky southpaw limited the soldiers to two hits, one in the eighth, whiffed nine and allowed only one base on balls. Only one man reached second, that on a wild throw by Pickett on a pick-off attempt at first base in the fifth.

The Chiefs wrapped up the game with two runs in the second inning on Ray Uniak's triple and a homer over the left-center field wall by Bill Bellman.

They made things secure by scoring one in both the third and fourth and three more in the seventh.

Bill Delich, the Holden shortstop, was the game's hitting star with two doubles and a single in four official trips to the plate.

As an interesting sidelight on the game, Hank Geritz was scheduled to pitch for Holden. But in the afternoon Geritz took a nap. During his slumber he dreamed he contemplated Jack Pickett for beating the Engineers. This was enough for Holden manager, Stub Roberts, who is a little superstitious. Pickett got the call.

Geritz will start for Holden tonight, opposed by either Bill Arnold or Skip Schulz.

US Casualty Reports Yet To Come Home

WASHINGTON, Mo. — American families will be hearing for several days to come of men killed, wounded or missing in Korea, even though the fighting ceased yesterday morning.

The public will be reading the names of battle casualties in newspapers two or three weeks from now.

These delays are products of the military system, which stresses accuracy above all else in dealing with human lives and of the official insistence that the families concerned must be the first to hear that anything has happened to their sons, husbands or brothers.

The average lag between the occurrence of a casualty on a field of battle and the receipt of the formal notification by his next of kin ranges from three to five days. Such reports are first checked and rechecked in the unit to which the man was attached and then are relayed to the appropriate headquarters in Washington. Here formal telegrams are prepared and sent to the families, giving brief details and, in case the man is wounded, telling his next of kin where they can write to him.

Continuous battle casualty totals in the Korean War will not be available for perhaps 10 days. The casualty reporting and publication system calls first for notification to the families. Thereafter, usually on Wednesdays, the Pentagon has issued a battle casualty summary based upon the numbers of official notifications to next of kin through the previous Friday.

Last Wednesday the cumulative total of casualties reported in the summary was 129,272. During the last 24 hours of the fighting in Korea, the Pentagon received reports of 330 additional killed, wounded and missing, but all of these occurred several days before the truce was signed.

The last stage in the casualty reporting is the publication of individual names and addresses. The casualty report appearing in today's newspapers includes battle deaths and injuries that occurred nearly three weeks ago.

Such reports are compiled in the Pentagon and mailed to newspapers and organizations throughout the country for publication on a future date.

It may be years before the final count is completed on the number of Americans who were killed, wounded and captured in the Korean conflict.

Pa. Senators Speed Up Barber's Work

HARRISBURG, Pa. — Members of the Pennsylvania Senate were busier than a pack of beavers last night rushing through last-minute legislation so the State Assembly could adjourn.

Despite the rush, however, the Senate Rules Committee found time to see that this session was postponed in the Senate barber shop, also hurried by a last-minute rush.

"By unanimous committee action, it has been requested that senators refrain from asking for shampoos and massages on Monday, July 27, 1953."

Many States Help Voters Cast Ballots

CHICAGO (AP)—State legislatures have taken action to provide votes for thousands of Americans who have been unable to go to the polls because of the tempo of modern life.

These people have the right to vote because they are 21 or over and are citizens. But thousands of them didn't get a chance to vote for president last year because on election day they were away from home or had just moved from one state to another.

Thousands of others laid up by illness or injury on election day also were unable to vote.

A survey by The Associated Press shows lawmakers in at least 10 states took votes-for-the-votes action during the series of sessions that has just ended.

Laws permitting the sick or disabled to vote by absentee ballot were enacted in Kansas, Indiana, Utah and West Virginia.

South Carolina gave absentee voting privileges to men and women in the armed services and citizens in the foreign service, the merchant marine, the Red Cross and the USO.

Absentee ballots in primary elections in North Carolina, already available to servicemen, will be offered to the wives of GIs, to civilian employees of the military forces stationed outside the United States, and to veterans in government hospitals.

Maine's absentee voter law, which already provides ballots for citizens who are ill or out of town on election day, was broadened to allow absentee voting by persons who won't go to the polls on election days which fall on religious holidays.

Uncounted thousands in these days of shifting population have been disfranchised temporarily by "residence regulations"—rules that you can't vote until you have lived in a state for a stipulated length of time.

These "forgotten folks" of election day have been remembered in several states.

Connecticut gave voters the opportunity to vote by absentee ballot in presidential elections for periods up to 15 months after they move from Connecticut—if they have not become voters in their new home states.

A new law permits persons who have just moved to Wisconsin to vote for president by filing proof they were legal voters in the states where they had lived.

The North Carolina Legislature endorsed a proposed amendment to the State Constitution which would reduce from four months to 30 days the time a person must live in a precinct to be eligible to vote. The proposition will be submitted to voters.

The New York Legislature eliminated an old requirement that a person who wanted to cast an absentee ballot had to appear before a notary public or other official to obtain acknowledgement of his signature.

New York's lawmakers also approved a proposed state constitutional amendment to permit citizens to obtain absentee ballots without registering personally if they are unable to appear because of illness or physical disability or because their duties require them to be outside the state. The amendment, to be effective, must be approved by the 1955 Legislature and later by the voters.

Wyoming—this one is different—amended its election law to permit free transportation of voters to and from the polls by political parties or by civic organizations interested in getting out a large vote.

Fifteen states had preferential primaries in 1952. The citizens vote for their favorite on a preference ballot or vote for delegates to their party's national convention who favor the candidate they prefer.

In some states they can do both. Two more states are getting into this big pre-convention act. And more may follow.

Indiana recently established a presidential preference primary. Under the new law the delegates will be bound to vote for the winner but only on the first ballot.

A new law in Nevada sets up a presidential preference test. It provides for the popular election of national convention delegates pledged to specific candidates.

Casey Jones, of railroad fame, came from Cayce, Ky., and was six feet four inches tall.

Beginning: Hearts and Crowns—

Royal Love Finds a Way; Precedence for Margaret's Case

BEFORE ABEDICTION: King Edward holds hands with Wallis Simpson on a Yugoslav vacation in 1936. The British press was mum, but behind palace doors there was royal furor.

THE WOMAN HE LOVES: The Duke of Windsor and the woman for whom he gave up a throne 17 years ago have a smiling reunion in New York last spring after the Duke returned from England.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Royal romance always seems to find a way. That's what you'll find when you go behind the latest headlines about England's Princess Margaret and take a look back in history at other royal loves that triumphed. Here's the first of three dispatches recalling notable hearts and crowns.

By RICHARD KLEINER
NEA Staff Correspondent

The path of true, royal love is about as smooth as a roller-coaster ride in a high wind. But Dangerous Dan Cupid, the well-known archer, is a man of unlimited patience. When he gets two people in his sights, romance is the result. He may have to have a King renounce a throne, or have a Queen pass a new law, but he finds a way.

The happy ending that now seems possible for Princess Margaret and Capt. Peter Townsend would be only Dan Cupid's latest triumph. There have been many others.

When Princess Margaret was a pretty, tousle-haired girl of five, for example, there was the incident involving her uncle. He did something which his little niece might have found hard to understand — then. He gave up his throne for love.

Chances are that she understands his motivations today. For she has been faced with much the same situation that King Edward VIII faced in 1936—a love that the cabinet and church frowned on.

In the late 1920s, and early 30s, the Prince of Wales was every girl's dream man, handsome, dashing, debonair and securely titled.

His circle of friends was wide and playful. But gradually the newspapers began to notice that one couple was more frequently in his company than others. The Prince would dine with them, take them to his country place for weekends, go to the Riviera with them.

This couple was Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Simpson. He was in the shipping business. She was dark, beautiful and American. She was Wallis Warfield, originally, from Baltimore, of a good but not wealthy family. She had once been Mrs. Earle Spencer, but she'd been divorced.

As long as the happy threesome stuck together, it wasn't an especially juicy bit of gossip. But, in the spring of 1936, the Prince began going places with only one Simpson at a time. The one was

MARGARET AND PETER: Cupid had a lot of royal practice.

Mrs. Simpson. That started tongues wagging, but good.

What made it more exciting was that, by this time, the Prince was the King. In January, his father had died. The coronation was set for May, 1937, but it never came off.

As the summer of 1936 wore on, the name of Wallis Simpson disappeared from the British newspapers. Not knowing what else to do, English papers completely ignored the affair. But the American papers were happily recording every date.

The English papers did not even report one especially vital vital statistic on Oct. 27: Mrs. Wallis Warfield Spencer Simpson had won an uncontested divorce.

But all was not so quiet in the back rooms of Buckingham Palace as it was on front pages. The King had made known his definite intention of marrying Mrs. Simpson, and making her his queen. The reaction to the cabinet and church was much the same as Margaret first heard: a roar of objection.

Led by Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin, the powers that were tried to do something about the affair.

"I will brook no interference in my personal affairs," Edward asserted.

Finally, the people were let in on the state secret and headlines blared the truth.

The British people today are almost solidly behind Margaret; they didn't cotton to Wallis Simpson. Her Americanism they could take, but not so her two divorces and her reputation as a night-clubber.

Edward offered a compromise, a "morganatic" marriage, which would have meant the two were legally wed, but she could not be a queen, nor would any children have a claim to the throne. But Baldwin said the English law did not have a provision for that type of union.

The people wondered why they didn't just remain "friends," a convenient arrangement much used by earlier English kings. But Edward, the erstwhile playboy, held out stolidly for a legal marriage.

The whole business had reached an ugly impasse, when Wallis took steps. She left England for the Riviera, and announced she was ready and willing to withdraw from an "unhappy and untenable" situation.

Not so Edward. On Dec. 11, 1936, he announced in a memorable broadcast to the world his abdication and went to rejoin the

New Ceiling To Be Asked On US Debt

WASHINGTON (AP)—Administration officials indicated today they almost certainly will ask Congress toward the end of this week for a new ceiling on the national debt.

The truce in Korea, they said, will not appreciably ease the strain on government finances in the coming six to eight months. Reduced spending for defense, said the officials, who asked not to be named, must come from reorganization and tightening of the defense setup "and that will take time."

They said the government will in all likelihood spend the 43½ billion dollars now budgeted for major national security programs in the 12 months ending next June 30, despite the end of fighting in Korea.

Something like a billion dollars might be saved, they said, in reduced fighting expenses. But that much or perhaps more, they estimated, would probably be used in the next year to 18 months in helping devastated Korea.

One official, explaining that over-all defense spending will probably continue much as planned before the truce was signed in Korea, said:

"We don't know what is going to happen in Indochina or other potential trouble spots. So far as the reduction of spending is concerned the truce in Korea is only a ray of light on the horizon."

The officials said their decision on asking Congress to raise the present 275 billion dollar debt limit depends on congressional action on still unfinished spending and tax legislation.

However, it was indicated, the people in the Treasury and elsewhere who must make the recommendation to President Eisenhower have virtually made up their minds that a higher debt limit will be necessary.

The debt now stands only 2½ billion dollars beneath the limit and estimated spending and income between now and the period of high tax return next spring will keep this margin from growing any bigger.

Van Fleet Believes US Should Use Atom On Truce-Breakers

NEW YORK (AP)—Retired Gen. James A. Van Fleet, asked if he thought atomic warfare should be used against the Communists if they violated the Korean truce, replied with a qualified "Yes."

Before answering, Van Fleet said it was an "iffy" question and that he didn't want to see headlines reading that he advocates atomic war.

After answering, he said he believed in "crossing a bridge when you come to it" and "playing it as you go—but always with a firm hand."

Newsman raised the question yesterday at a conference following a preview of a television film made for the relief drive of the American-Korean Foundation. Van Fleet, former commander of U. N. forces in Korea, is a foundation director.

woman he loved. As the Duke and Duchess of Windsor, they've lived a nomadic life—Paris, New York, Cannes—but they've been together.

For the privilege of being with his love Edward gave up more than any man ever had. Margaret knows why.

Italian Decides To Make America His Lifetime Home

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Vittorio Mori, an Italian production worker, came here last year to learn American production methods so he could use them in his home town of Ancona.

He liked what he saw while working at the Medart Co. here. He especially liked the idea that he could talk to a foreman any time he wanted. In Italy, he said, you have to have an appointment.

The Medart firm also liked Mori's ability and willingness. He also married an Italian-speaking St. Louis girl.

Mori had to return to Italy last March under rules of the Mutual Security Agency which brought him to the United States.

But he kept after the American Consul in Naples.

He's back in St. Louis to stay now, Mori said yesterday, and he hopes to become an American citizen.

"The opportunities are here," he said. "The better life, so many things I never saw in Italy."

Town May Adopt Name Of Famed Son, Tobey

TEMPLE, N. H. (AP)—This 185-year-old town may change its name to Tobey in honor of its famed son, Sen. Charles W. Tobey, who died Friday.

Selectman Henry Fish said the suggestion would go before the town meeting next March.

Tobey will be buried here today.

Farmer Blasts Plane With His Shotgun To Protect Mules

GOLDSBORO, N. C. (AP)—A man's gotta protect his interests! That's what a farmer near here did when a small plane buzzed his tobacco patch for the second time this week, causing his mules to run away.

The unidentified farmer consulted the sheriff first. When the plane returned, he picked up a shot gun and blasted away with both barrels at it. The farmer retrieved his mules and resumed work. He hasn't been bothered since.
